

THE GBS GROUP: WHEN RELIABILITY MATTERS MOST

At The GBS Group, we solve problems and take nothing for granted. Our experienced team of consulting engineers and analysts deliver expert services tailored to specific client needs and challenges in the core areas of reliability, engineering, software development, maintenance engineering, root cause analysis, and enabling technology designs and applications. We serve large commercial and public sector clients including the U.S. Navy, Amtrak, Boeing, General Dynamics, ManTech, and others. We have consistently brought success to our client projects and invite you to check our references.

We bring the investigative skills and passion necessary to dig deeper into the root causes of engineering and maintenance issues, not just identify failures and symptoms. We have a track record of solving difficult, long-standing problems. We understand the physical issues, human dynamics, and process factors that can each contribute to expensive, unexpected failures to critical systems and components if not properly diagnosed and resolved.

The GBS Group employs some of the best design, field, and in-service engineers and technicians in the business with an emphasis on mechanical, electrical, and information systems and equipment engineering. Team members average more than 20 years of experience with a combined 400+ years supporting marine, rail, Navy, and information, and software systems.

The GBS team is available to provide consulting, engineering, and technical services in the areas of:

- Root Cause Analysis support and training.
- Reliability Centered Maintenance and Condition Monitoring program development.
- Maintenance analysis, procedure development PM Program Scheduling, Optimization, knowledge delivery from executive to shop floor level.
- Enabling Technologies software and hardware design, development, installation, troubleshooting, alignment, and performance monitoring.
- Field service engineering, investigations, and training.
- Business and technical process analysis improvement and change management support.
